THALY IN ENGLAND.

THAT second time they hunted me
From bill to plain, from shore to sea,
And Austria, hounding far and wide
Her blood-bounds thro' the country side,
Breathed hot and instant on my trace,
I made six days a hiding place
Of that dry green old squeduct
Where I and Charles, when boys, have plucked
The fire flies from the roof above,
Bright creeping thro' the moss they love.
—How long it seems since Charles was lost!
Six days the soldiers crossed and crossed
The country in my very sight;
And when that peril ceased at night,
The sky broke out in red dismay
With signal-fires; well, there I lay
Close covered o'er in my recess.
Up to the neck in ferus and cross.
Thinking on Metternich our friend,
And Charles's miserable end,
And much beside, two days; the third,
Huager o'ercams me when I heard
The peasants from the village go
To work among the maize; you know,
With us, in Lombardy, they bring
Provisions packed on mules, a string
With little bells that cheer their task,
And casks, and boughs on every cask
To keep the sur's heat from the wine; ITALY IN ENGLAND. And casks, and boughts on every cask.
To keep the sun's heat from the wine.
These I let pass in jingling line.
And, close on them, dear noisy crew,
The peasants from the village, too; For at the very rear would troop
Their wives and sisters in a group
To belp, I knew; when these had passed,
I threw my glove to strike the last,
Taking the chance: she did not start,
Much less cry out, but stooped apart
One instant, rapidly glanced round,
And saw me beckon from the ground:
A wild bush grows and hides my crypt;
She picked my glove up while she strippy
A branch off, then rejoined the rest
With that; my glove lay in her breast:
Thea I drew breath: they disappeared:
It was for lady I feared.

An hear, and she returned alone For at the very rear wo

An hour, and she returned alone Exactly where my glove was thrown.

Meanwhile came many thoughts; on me dean while came many thou Rested the hopes of Italy; Which, when 't was told her, could not fall Persuade a peasant of its truth:
This hiding was a freek of youth;
I meant to give her hopes of pay.
And no tempitation to betray.
But when I saw that woman's face,
Its caim simplicity of grace,
Our Italy's own attitude
In which she walked thus far, and stood,
Planting each naked foot so firm.
To crush the snake and spare the worm—
At first sight of her eyes, I said,
"I am that person on whose head
"They fix the price, because I hate
"The Austrians over us: the State
"Will give you gold—oh, gold so much,
"If you betray me to their clutch I
"And be your death, for aught I know,
"If ence they find you saved their foe.
"Now, you must bring me food and drink,
"And carry safe what I shall write
"To Padus, which you'll reach at night
"Before the Duomo shuts; go in,
"And wait till Tenebre begin;
"Walk to the Third Confessional.
"Between the pillar and the wall,
"And keeling, whisper whence comes peace?
"Say it a second time; then cease;
"And If the voice inside returns,
"From Christ and Freedom; what concerns
"The cause of Peace?—To answer, slip:
"My letter where you placed your lip:
"Then come back happy we have done
"Our mother service—I, the son.
"As you the daughter of our land!"

Three morelings more, she took her stand Persuade a peasant of its truth; This hiding was a freak of youth;

"As you the daughter of our land!"

Three moreings more, she took her stand. In the same place, with the same eyes: I was no surer of sur-rise.

Than of her coming: we conferred. Of her own prospects, and I heard. She said—then let her eyelids fall,
'the could do much "—as if some doubt.

Entered her heart,—then, passing out,
'She could not speak for others—who.
'Had other thoughts; herself she knew:"
And so she brought me drink and food.

After four days, the scouts pursued.

Another path: at last arrived.

The help my Paduan friends contrived.
To furnish me: she brought the news:
For the first time I could not choose. For the first time I could not choose But kiss her hand and lay my own upon her head—"This faith was shown
"To Italy, our mother;—she
"Uses my hand and blesses thee!"
"Bhe followed sown to the sea-shore;
I left and never saw her more.

How very long since I have thought How very long since I have thought
Concerning—much less wished for—aught
Beside the good of Italy
For which I live and mean to die!
In love I never was; and since
Charles proved false, nothing could convince
My inmost heart I had a friend;
However, if I pleased to spend
Real wishes on myself—say, Three—
I know at least what one should be;
I would grasp Metternich unfit,
I felt his red wet throat distillation in the same of the same should be and next,
—Nor much for that am I perplexed—
Charles, perjured traitor, for his part,
Should die slow of a broken heart
Under his new employers—last
—Ab, there, what should one wish? For fast
Do I grow old and out of strength;
If I resolved to seek at length
My father's house again, how scared If I resolved to seek at length My father's house again, how scared They all would look, and unprepared My brothers live in Austria's pay
—Disowned me long ago, men say;
And all my early make who used
To praise me so—perhaps induced
More than one early step of mine—
Are turning wise; while part opine
"Freedom grows License," part suspect
"Haste breeds Delay," and recollect
They always said such prematuro
Beginnings never could endure:
So, with a sullen "All's for best,"
The land seems settling to its rest.
I think, then, I should wish to stand
This evening in that dear, lost land,
Over the sea the thousand miles,
And know if yet that woman smiles
With the calm smile—some little farm brothers live in Austria's pay With the calm smile—some little farm She lives in there, no doubt—what harm If I sate on the door side bench, And, while her spindle made a trench Fantastically in the dust, Inquired of all her fortunes—just Her children's ages and their names, And what may be the husband's aims For each of them—I'd talk this out.

For each of them—I dear this out, And sit there, for an hour about, Then kiss her hand once more, and lay Mine on her head, and go my way. Se much for idle wishing-how It steals the time! To business now!

Law Courts... Deferred. U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.-Before Judges Nelson and Betts.-A Grand Jury was sworn, consisting of the following gentlemen: William S. Coe, foreman, Moses H.

charged with offences against the law promoting the Slave trade. Also to the man arrested for counterfelting, &c. after which the Grand Jury retired.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Before Judge Edmonds.—Denis McCarthy vs. Hodges, survivor, &c. and Joshua Walker.—Action of ejectment in relation to the North half of the Carlon House, plaintiff claiming as helf to Ald. Denis McCarthy, the former owner, already reterred to. The pedigree was pretty well proved, but the defendants contend that the proceedings of plaintiff in obtaining his certificate of naturalization in Saratoga Co. were not regular, be never having declared his intentions, uneer oath, to become a citizen of the United States, and renounce all foreign princes, potentates, &c. It was contended thatas the final certificate given by the Court of Common Pleas at Saratoga, declaring the plaintiff had conformed to the law, was regular, this Court could not go behind the certificate. A long argument ensued, and Judge Edmonds finally decided where a man comes in and claims, as a citizen, superior title to an estate over the person in possession, he must show that he has fully conformed to the laws of Congress in procuring his naturalization. It appeared from the testimony that plaintiff had never sworn his intentions to become a citizen, but by mistake of his lawyer, had been made to swear to a notice required under a former law of Congress, of his having arrived in the country and wishing to become a citizen. A nonsult was then asked for and argued to the time of adjournment.

COURT OF OVER AND TERMINER.—The sentence in re

Court of Over and Traminer.—The sentence in relation to the Butchers' Milling Association, was not pronounced yesterday, the counsel for defendants wishing farther time, in which to present a bill of exceptions. Mr. O'Conor, for complainants, asked for a speedy decision in the case. Many persons are in doubt whether they will retain or hire houses in the vicinity for the next year. Mr. Blunt supperted the request. If the nuisance continues, the persons in the neighborhood could go and abate it by personal force. Mr. Clark did not like the threat. As many could be found to defend as to attack. The Association, after the verdict which has been given, do not intend to continue the nuisance. They have expended $500 in experiments to obviate the difficulty; that is, to burn the smoke and avoid the offensive air, and still farther plans were under consideration. This case is to be brought up on Thursday, when the Court will decide whether to sentence now (Mr. O'Conordisclaimed any desire of punishment, as to the individuals, but which a removal, and an immediate removal, of the grievance complained of)—or to defer it till the Oyer and Terminer meeting, in the early part of May.

Omen Clark vs. John W. Somerindyke.—Action of replevin in relation to effects destrained upon'at No. 235 Walker'st. but in fact to test the ownership of said house and lot 235, they having belonged to Joshua Sutton, deceased, wha died intestate. The property is new claimed by A. B. Sutton, neephew of Joshua, who avers that Charles Sutton, son of Joshua, the other claimant, and who issued the landlora's warrant as owner, is an illegitimate son, and cannot inherit. This is denied, it being averred that Joshua was secretly married to Catherine Jackson, the mother of Charles, before the birth of Charles, about 38 years ago, she being at the time in her 17th year. Much testimony was adduced.

Catharine Mory, a respectable looking lady, wearing spectacles, and whose appearance would denote her to have been of handsome appearance in her earlier days, and was the 'Kate Jackson' alluded to, gave testimony. She stated that she was privately married to Joshua Sutton, and that they came to New-York together with a view to keep it secret. She was then between 16 and 17 years of age. She was married by Rev. Mr. Williams, of the Baptist Church in Oliver-st. then Fayette-st. After their marriage they returned to Cornwall in different sloops, the usual kind of passenger vessels at that period. Her child. (the party in the present case.) was born 4½ months after her marriage, as his wife. Six months after their marriage, on her claiming from him her rights as a wife, he told her their marriage, was all sham. He never did much for her afterward. She visited him, in company with her son, about ten years ago at the Asylum, Blooming daie, where he then was.

A son of Rev. Mr. Williams was called to the stand. He produced the true books containing the registers of marriages kept by his father throughout the the term of his ministry, being from Oct. 1796 to May, 1825, the last register being two or three days previous to his death. The who

EPISCOPAL COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE,

REV. THOMAS TOWELL, A. M. Principal.—The Summer aession of this Institution will commence on the first of May next. The streeting of guardians is particularly request d to this Institution, as superior to most that desire their patronage. The course of instruction is thorough in its character, and superintended and directed by the most competent Professors. But whilst the intellect is strengthered and enriched, it is the earnest endeavor of the Principal to instill into the bosoms of his youthful charge the true and ennobiling principles of Christianity. That thus, whilst they are preparing for spheres of usefulness on earth, they may also be fitted for the higher duties of eternity. Knowing the peculiar trials endured by boys at most boarding schools, Mr. T's intention is to make them feel as members of his family, and not merely as boarders in a school. The proximity of the Institute to New-York, and its accessibleness at all times from that city, united to the beauty and bealthfulness of its situation, all combine to recommend it to the streation of parents and guardians. AT THE NEW ESTABLISHMENT, 159 Broadway, between Liberty and Cortand. The subscriber repeats his cordial thanks to the public for the patronage-far exceeding his most sanguine hopes—which has been bestowed upon him since his establishment in New-York. He halls this success as an onen of a prosperity based upon the discriminating taste of this metropolis. The subscriber begs the public to believe his absolute disavowsi of the exagerated and puffing system of advertisement so unbinshingly practiced. He is determined that truth and fairness—so particularly valuable where imposition is easy—shall be the order of his establishment, and that uo goods of his shall be palmed off by misrepresentation. Every thing shall be genuine—no false labels, so shamefully common in this country, designed to sell as the products of the best foreign houses inferior articles fraudulently put up in America. The subscriber needs not the sid of such buesse. For many years the director of the first Laboratory in Paris, he is ready to meet foreign competition, and he flatters himself he has already achieved a name which is as good a guaranty as any article in his line can possess. What has been the decision of the most scientific judges in America: the judges at the exhibitions of New-Yors, Philadelphia and Boston? Need the fact he relierated that the subscriber has for several years past taken, 'salety and accelerately,' the first premiums for perfumery in these cities over all competitors? Is it not a most algolificant fact in his favor, that the honorable judges of the least exhibition in New-York were so struck with the elegance and excellence of his products that they felt themselves constrained to bestow upon him the Gold Medal never before awarded to Perfumery in America? THE GREAT CANADIAN REMEDY.

THE GREAT CANADIAN REMEDY.

VINER'S PECTORAL SYRUP

Of Hoarhound and Elecampane,

UNRIVALED for the cure of coughs, colds, asthma, spitting of blood, whooping cough, difficulty of breathing, pleurisy, consumption, and all diseases of the lungs.

Bronchittis, a disease that is aweeping thousands to a premature grave under the fictitious name of consumption, can be cured by the use of this medicine.

For several years past this medicine has been in use in Canada, where it has become universally known, and is considered the best medicine in use for all pulmonary diseases. The great success which has attended its use in that country, and the many truly wonderful cures which have been effected by it, has induced the proprietors to introduce it into the United States, confident of its being the most aske and valuable remedy ever discovered, and adapt.

froduce it into the United States, confident of its being the most safe and valuable remedy ever discovered, and adapted to all diseases of the lungs when any of the functions do not perform their natural or healthy action, exerting a most grateful and soothing indisence over the functions of the whole system, distributing excitement when excessive, allaying irritation, soreness and pain, and appendity impuriting renewed rigor and elasticity to the whole frame.

Prepared by John Winer & Co. 83 Maden-lane, N. York, so proprietors for the U. S. and sold by druggists generally throughout the country.

Sold by WYATT & KETCHAM, 121 Fulton-st., R. A. Sands, 188 Bowery, cor. Spring; J. & I. Coddington, 393 Hadson, cor. of Spring; J. W. Bassett, 544 Broadway, and at the New York Patent Medicine Warehouse, 5 Divisionst. (Groton Hall.)

BROOKLYN, January 22d, 1846.

Messrs. John Winer & Co. 23 Maden-lane, N. Y.—Sirs: A friend of mine hearing me complain of a severe cough and hoarseness, together with a distress from which I had suffered for some time back, caused by a severe cough and hoarseness, together with a distress from which I had suffered for some time back, caused by a severe cough addenly taken, purchased a bottle of your Syrup of Hoarhound and Elecampane, and gave it to me. When I first commenced taking it I could not speak above my breath, nor could I sleep without niting up in mybed mout of the night; my cough some nights would be incessant, so sa to deprive me of sleep; but afor taking three doess the hoarseness was much relieved, together with the pain caused by coughing; I have continued the case until I have taken about one half of the bottle. I am perfectly free from any cough now, and am convinced that If I had not obtained relief the infammation of the lungs produced thereby would have brought on Consumption. It is certainly the beat medicine I have ever taken for a cough, the effects are so soon felt, and I will do all in my power to make it known to my creads. Yours, with much grattude, mil W&Fin*
